

Gallyamova Lyudmila Ivanovna

Position: Professor Research Fellow

Research Unit: Department of History of the Russian Far East

Academic Degree: Dr.Sc. (History)

Academic Title: Professor

Habilitation Thesis: Far Eastern Workforce in Russia in the Second Half of the Nineteenth Century – in the Early Twentieth Century (1998)

Research Interests: socio-economic history of the Russian Far East in the second half of the nineteenth century – in the first quarter of the twentieth century; socio-political and cultural life of the Far East at the end of the nineteenth century - in the first quarter of the twentieth century; historiography of the history of the Russian Far East in the second half of the nineteenth century – in the first quarter of the twentieth century.

Biography

Lyudmila Gallyamova was born in Kokchetav (the Republic of Kazakhstan). She graduated from the Faculty of History and Philology of Tomsk State University, finished full-time postgraduate studies at the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East of the Far Eastern Scientific Center of the USSR Academy of Sciences / of the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences (Vladivostok). She did an internship at the Institute of Russian History of the USSR Academy of Sciences, Moscow (1989-1990), at the Slavic-Eurasian Research Center of Hokkaido University, Sapporo, Japan (2000), at the Institute of History of the Heilongjiang Academy of Social Sciences, Harbin, China (2002), at the Institute of History of the Jilin Academy of Social Sciences, Changchun, China (2006).

After graduating from Tomsk State University, Dr. Gallyamova arrived in Vladivostok and started to work at the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East of the Far Eastern Scientific Center of the USSR Academy of Sciences / the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences. During her PhD studies under the supervision of Academician A.I. Krushanov, she prepared her PhD thesis "The Formation of Workforce in the Russian Far East (the Second Half of the Nineteenth Century – the Early Twentieth Century)" which was completed in 1980. In 1998, she defended her habilitation thesis for a higher doctoral degree in History: "Far Eastern Workforce in Russia in the Second Half of the Nineteenth Century – in the Early Twentieth Century".

She started to work as a laboratory assistant and grew up to a senior research fellow at the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East. She has been Head of the Department since 1999 and Deputy Director for Science since 2003.

Dr. Gallyamova is Vice-Chairman of the Academic Council of the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East, Vice-Chairman of the Thesis Committee of the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East of the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences; since 2001 – Member of the Thesis Committee for Higher Doctoral Degrees in History at the Far Eastern State University of Humanities, Khabarovsk; since 2009 – Member of the Dissertation Committee for Higher Doctoral Degrees in Theory and History of Culture at Far Eastern State Technical University (nowadays Far Eastern Federal University). She is Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the academic peer-reviewed journal “Russia and the Pacific” and Editor-in-Chief of various major works, collection of scientific articles, conference proceedings and monographs published by the Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnography of the Peoples of the Far East. She is the author of approximately 180 scientific papers including three individual and four multi-authored monographs.

Dr. Gallyamova has been involved in the supervision of ten PhD theses on History. Three habilitational theses on History are in progress.

Dr. Gallyamova was awarded by the honorary certificate of the Russian Academy of Sciences and the trade union of the Russian Academy of Sciences (1999), the honorary certificate of the Presidium of the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences (2007), the commemorative token “70 years of the Primorye Region” (2008), notes of acknowledgments from the Governor (1998) and Vice-Governor (2010) of the Primorye Region. She is a laureate of the competition on Fundamental Scientific Papers of the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences (1999), a laureate of the award of eminent scholars of the Russian far East of the Far Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences (2010).